CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS INFORMATION

1. Mode of Trial

- (a) All adult criminal cases start off in the Magistrates’ Court but are then divided into the following three categories:
- (i) Summary Only Offences
 - (A) These offences can only be dealt with in the Magistrates’ Court, except in certain exceptional circumstances which allow these cases to be dealt with in the Crown Court.
 - (ii) Either-Way Offences
 - (A) These offences can either be dealt with in the Magistrates’ Court or the Crown Court. We will consider the strength of the evidence against you and your instructions, together with the advantages and disadvantages of either Court before advising you on the most appropriate venue.
 - (iii) Indictable Only Offences
 - (A) Pursuant to section 51 of the Crime and Disorder Act 1998, the more serious offences can only be dealt with in the Crown Court.

2. Summary Only Offences

- (a) At the first hearing in the Magistrates’ Court, we will be given a copy of the ‘initial evidence’ against you. We will consider this evidence and ask you for an account of what actually happened. We will advise you on the strengths and weaknesses of your case before deciding on how you should plead.

- (b) If you plead guilty, we will mitigate on your behalf and the Court will decide on the appropriate sentence. It may be the case that the Court wants more information about your background and personal circumstances, in which case they may ask the Probation service to prepare a Pre-Sentence Report (PSR).
- (c) If you plead not guilty, the case will be adjourned for us and the Crown Prosecution Service (Crown) to prepare for trial. We will have to notify the Court of a 'reason' why we don't agree with the Crown's case and also deal with administrative issues, such as the number of witnesses that are likely to be called, how long the case will last and whether we anticipate any arguments about the law. After this, the Court will fix a trial date.
- (d) We will carefully analyse all the evidence and ask you to attend our office in order for us to take your instructions. Using your instructions, we will identify any issues with the evidence and prepare for your trial. It is very important that you keep in touch with us and give us all of the information that we ask for. You are our best source of information about what actually happened. If you do not help us to help you, you are reducing your chances of an acquittal.

3. Either-Way Offences

- (a) For offences which are triable either way, your first appearance will always be at the Magistrates' Court. We will receive from the Crown a copy of the 'initial evidence' against you. Once we have had the opportunity of considering this evidence, we will speak to you about your account of what actually happened.
- (b) You will then be advised to plead 'guilty', 'not guilty' or enter 'no plea'.
- (c) If you decide to plead guilty, the court will have to decide if its powers of sentencing are enough to deal with your case. If they think that they do not have enough powers, then they can send your case to the Crown Court for you to be sentenced by a Judge.
- (d) If you plead not guilty or enter 'no plea' at all, then the Court will decide on the most appropriate venue for the case, based on the seriousness of the allegations.
- (e) If the Court agrees to retain your case at the Magistrates' Court, you will be offered the choice of having your case dealt with in that Court or by a Judge and Jury at the Crown Court. We will help you with this choice and advise you on what we believe to be in your best interests.
- (f) If the Court declines to retain your case at the Magistrates' Court, you do not have a choice to make and your case will be adjourned for a committal hearing.

4. Your First Appearance at the Magistrates Court

- (a) Your first appearance will be at the Magistrates Court. The purpose of this hearing is to assess whether the case can be dealt with at the Magistrates Court or if the seriousness of your case means that it should be dealt with at the Crown Court.
- (b) If your matter is a summary offence then your case will be dealt with by the Magistrates as per section 1.2 of this booklet.
- (c) If your matter is an 'indictable only' offence i.e. robbery, 3rd strike burglary etc you will not be asked to enter a plea and your matter will automatically be 'sent' to the Crown Court for a preliminary hearing.
- (d) If your matter is an 'either way' offence, then you will be asked to enter a plea. Once you have entered your plea the court will determine whether the nature of your case is too serious to be heard by the Magistrates Court. If the Magistrates feel that the case is too serious, then your matter will be 'sent' to the Crown Court.
- (e) If your matter is an 'either way' offence to which you enter a guilty plea but the Magistrates decide that they have inappropriate powers of sentence, your matter will be 'sent' to the Crown Court for sentencing.

5. Indictable-Only Offences

- (a) For these offences, although your first appearance will always be at the Magistrates' Court, the Magistrates must simply send your case to the Crown Court.
- (b) Your first hearing in the Crown Court will be a 'Preliminary Hearing', in which the Judge will simply hear a summary of the allegations against you. You will be represented by a Barrister but will not be expected to enter a plea at this stage because we will not have seen all of the evidence against you.
- (c) The judge will give directions about how the case should progress, set a time-table for key events and adjourn the case for a 'Plea and Case Management Hearing' (PCMH).
- (d) At the PCMH, you will be asked to enter a plea. We will help you to decide which plea is right for you and this will depend upon the strength of the evidence against you and what you tell us about what happened. We will also give you advice about the sentence that you can expect to receive if you plead, or are found, guilty.
- (e) If you decide to plead guilty, the Judge will consider what sentence is appropriate. He may decide to sentence you straight away or adjourn the case pending the preparation of a Pre-Sentence Report (PSR) from the Probation Service.
- (f) If you decide to plead not guilty, the case will be adjourned for a trial before a Judge and Jury. It is imperative that you keep in touch with us and give us all of the information that we ask for. You are our best source of information about what actually happened. If you do not help us to help you, you are reducing your chances of an acquittal.
- (g) The Court will usually give a fixed date on which the trial will start. However, the Court does operate a 'Warned List' system. This means that you may be told the week or fortnight in which your trial will be heard, but not the exact date.
- (h) There is no way of knowing the exact day on which your trial will start so it is essential that you remain available for each day during the specified period. In addition, you must telephone our office one working day before each day of the specified period, between 4.00pm and 5.00pm, to check whether your case has been listed for the following working day.
- (i) Please note we are in exactly the same position as we will only be notified in the afternoon of the day before your trial.

6. Juvenile Cases

- (a) The majority of cases involving juveniles (children and young persons under 18 years of age) start off in the Youth Court. There are some exceptions to this but these are rare.
- (b) If you are under 16 years of age, the Youth Court insists that a parent or guardian attends Court with you. However, even if you are 16 or 17 years of age, we would still advise that a parent or guardian attends Court with you.
- (c) There is a presumption that all juveniles will be dealt with in their local Youth Court. However, if the offence you face falls within certain limited criteria, you will be committed/ sent for Trial to the Crown Court. You can also be committed for sentence to the Crown Court if you plead guilty to one of limited number of serious offences. If you reach 18 during the course of the Youth Court proceedings, you could be "remitted" to the Magistrates Court for your case to be finalised there.
- (d) For a further explanation as to how your case will progress depending upon whether your plea is one of guilty or not guilty and or where your case will be heard, please refer to paragraphs 1.2 to 1.5 above.

LEGAL AID, PRIVATE FEES AND COURT ORDERS FOR COSTS

7. Funding Your Case

- (a) Much of the work we do is paid for from public funding (this is known as 'Legal Aid') and is free to our clients. However, due to recent changes to the Legal Aid system, you will not automatically qualify for Legal Aid and the State will not pay for every type of work or for every client.
- (b) We will promptly assess your entitlement to Legal Aid and if you are not eligible, we will discuss your options with you.
- (c) We have detailed the different types of funding available below.

8. Funding for Police Station Advice and DWP Interviews

- (a) All advice received whilst you are detained at the police station is publicly-funded i.e. covered by Legal Aid.
- (b) We will remain available to advise and assist you when you are at the police station, in person or over the phone, 24 hours a day and 365 days a year.
- (c) If you are the subject of a DWP interview at, for example, the Council offices, eligibility for funding with advice and assistance is not automatic. Your eligibility for Legal Aid will be means tested.

9. Magistrates' Court Funding

- (a) If you are charged or summoned to attend Court, we will help you complete the relevant application forms in order to apply for a Representation Order, with which we can claim our fees from Legal Aid.
- (b) In all circumstances, as a matter of urgency, you must provide us with evidence to support your application as the Court will not consider any applications without documentary evidence.
- (c) The application is now split into two parts and you must pass both elements of the test, to be entitled to Legal Aid.
 - (i) Interests of Justice Test
 - (A) This application form asks questions about how serious the offences are, what the likely sentence might be and whether you have ever been in trouble before. There are also questions about whether you might need help because you suffer from any kind of disability or whether you will have problems understanding the Court proceedings for any other reason. If you are not at risk of being imprisoned, you must give good reasons for why you should be represented at a cost to the public purse.
 - (ii) Means Test
 - (A) This application form asks questions about your income and a limited number of expenses. If you pass the interests of justice test, the Court will use this form to decide whether or not you should pay your own legal fees.
- (d) Although we will always give you specific advice, generally, if you are in receipt of certain State benefits, or under the age of 18 you will be entitled to Legal Aid. In addition, if you are employed and earning less than the lower threshold set by the Legal Aid Agency, namely £12,475 per annum, you will also be eligible for Legal Aid.
- (e) If you are earning between £12,475 and £22,325 per annum, your application will move to the next stage and the Court will calculate your disposable income. If your disposable income is more than £3,398 per annum, you are unlikely to be eligible for Legal Aid.

- (f) If you are a single person and earn more than £22,325 per annum, you will not be eligible for Legal Aid. However, if you are living with a partner and / or have children, the Court will apply a very complicated formula to give you an allowance for each member of your household. If after the application of the allowance, you (and your partner together) are considered to have disposable income of more than £3,398 per annum, you will not be eligible for Legal Aid.
- (g) In exceptional circumstances, we may advise you to make a 'hardship application' and you would be required to demonstrate that you do not live beyond your means and are genuinely unable to fund your own representation.
- (h) If your application for Legal Aid in the Magistrates' Court and for any subsequent committal to the Crown Court for sentence has been refused, you will have to pay our legal fees and any expenses arising personally.

10. Crown Court Funding

- (a) If you had the benefit of Legal Aid at the Magistrates' Court and your case has been transferred to the Crown Court for sentence, your Representation Order will automatically be extended to cover our costs and the costs of a Barrister.
- (b) If you did not have the benefit of Legal Aid at the Magistrates' Court, we will immediately assist you with completing the relevant application and apply for Legal Aid for you in the Crown Court. If this application is refused you will have to pay our legal fees and any expenses arising personally.
- (c) All Crown Courts across the country may apply the means test to applications for Legal Aid if your case is indictable only or if it has been committed to Crown Court for trial. Subject to your annual income and your assets, you may be asked to pay or contribute to your legal fees. The Court will decide whether or not to grant the application. The Court may ask for further information or documentation to support your application. It is important that you provide any information requested and assist us with the application.
- (d) If your annual household disposable income is £37,500 or more (the money you are left with after you have paid your main bills and taking into account your family circumstances, such as a partner and/ or any children) then you will not be eligible for Legal Aid and you will have to pay privately for any work that we do for you.
- (e) You may have to pay towards the costs of your defence, depending on your financial circumstances. Any contribution towards the costs of your case could be from your income while the case is ongoing and possibly from any capital (i.e. savings) you have if you are subsequently convicted. If this is the case, you will receive a Contribution Order from the Court and you will have to make payments as set out under that Order.
- (f) You will have to pay a contribution towards the costs if your annual disposable income is above £3,398. A standard amount is allowed for some bills such as gas, electricity and insurance, and there is an allowance for a partner and/or any children.
- (g) The first payment will be due within 28 days of your case being sent to the Crown Court for Trial. You must tell us and the Court about any changes to your financial circumstances during your case because a change may affect the amount you have to pay towards your defence costs.
- (h) If you do not think that you can afford to make the payments that have been ordered, or if you think that a mistake has been made, you can ask for a review to be carried out of the amount that the Court has told you to pay.
- (i) If you do not fully comply with the Court in this respect, your payments towards your costs could be increased and this could result in you paying more than you would have otherwise had to pay. Please be advised that if, at any time, you do not tell the truth about your income, assets and expenditure, you could be prosecuted and maybe sent to prison.
- (j) If you plead guilty or are found guilty after trial, the Crown Court can also order that you pay a contribution to your defence costs. You may have to pay towards your defence costs from any capital assets you may have. This would only apply if you have £30,000 or more of assets such as savings, equity in property, shares or premium bonds and any payments that you have already made from your income have not covered your total defence costs. You will be told at the end of your case if you have to make a payment from capital. However, the Crown Court does not have the power to do this if you plead guilty or are found guilty in the Magistrates' Court and the Magistrates then decide to send your case to the Crown Court for sentence. Similarly, there is no power to make you pay anything towards your defence costs if your case stays in the Magistrates' Court throughout. You will not have to pay towards the costs of your case if you are under 18 years of age when you make your application for Legal Aid or if you receive certain state benefits.

- (k) If you are found not guilty, any payments that you have made under a Contribution Order will be refunded to you together with interest. However, if your payments were late or you did not make the payments as a result of which action was taken against you, the costs of this action will be deducted from any refund.

11. What is covered by Legal Aid?

- (a) Usually, all of the work that is necessary to prepare your case and that can be justified to the Legal Aid Agency will be covered by the Order. If any unusual work is required, we can make an application for special permission, known as 'prior authority', to incur the expense of that work. This permission may or may not be granted and is subject to assessment by the Legal Aid Agency.
- (b) We are not allowed to bill part of our work to the Legal Aid Agency and part of it to you. If, for any reason, the Legal Aid Agency refuses to pay for work that you insist you want to be done on your case, you would have to pay all of our fees privately from then on.

12. Private Fees

- (a) If, at any stage, you become ineligible for Legal Aid, or if any of the work you have asked us to carry out is not covered by any form of Legal Aid, you will be responsible for paying our fees on a private basis. If this situation arises, we will explain how we calculate our rates and discuss any funding options with you.

13. Prosecution Costs Orders Against You

- (a) If your case goes to Court and you plead guilty to an offence, or are found guilty of an offence at trial, the prosecution will usually make an application for a contribution towards the costs of bringing the prosecution against you. The amount that they will apply for can vary from £35, for a simple motoring case, to hundreds, or even thousands of pounds in a complicated case that goes to trial at the Crown Court. We will be able to advise you about the likely application for prosecution costs in your case.
- (b) The Court does not have to order payment of the full amount applied for. The Court has to consider your ability to pay and also any fines or compensation orders that the Court may impose on you.

14. Costs Order in Your Favour

- (a) If the prosecution cannot prove the case against you and you are acquitted or the case against you is dismissed, discharged or discontinued, you can apply to the Court for a 'Defendant's Costs Order'. Unfortunately, you can only claim for your legal, travel and subsistence expenses. You cannot claim for any loss of earnings or damage to your reputation or business for example.
- (b) If you had the benefit of Legal Aid, you should not have any legal expenses to claim but the Court will pay the reasonable costs of getting to and from Court and subsistence (i.e. food and drink) whilst at Court but you must produce receipts for all such expenditure.
- (c) If you have not had the benefit of legal aid and the Court makes a costs order in your favour, any amount awarded will be limited to the amount that would be payable had your matter been funded by legal aid. The Court may send a cheque directly to you in payment. However, if there are sums that remain outstanding to this firm then we will obtain payment from the Court and account to you for any sum that you have paid to us in advance.

- (b) Whilst we have a degree of understanding of taxation relevant to an individual or corporate entity or value added tax or other taxation, we are not qualified to give any taxation advice in any form and you should take the professional advice of a taxation accountant or your own accountant. If you authorise us to proceed with the transaction, we will proceed on the basis you have sought appropriate professional advice. If you wish us to help you appoint an appropriate accountant please ask.
- (c) If now, or at any time in the future, any matter on which we act for you is the subject of formally contested proceedings, whether in the courts or other tribunals, you will almost certainly have to disclose documents, including electronic documents, relevant to the matter. You should ensure that you do not destroy or allow to be destroyed any documents that relate to such matter in any way (however slight you believe the connection may be), as your position in such proceedings could be seriously compromised if you do so.

18. Your Duty to Retain and Preserve Documents

19. Copyright

- (a) Unless we agree otherwise, all copyright which exists in the documents and other materials that we create whilst carrying out work for you will remain our property. You have the right to use such documents and materials for the purposes for which they are created, but not otherwise.

You agree that we may destroy them after that time. We will not destroy documents you ask us to deposit in our deeds store.
- (b) If you ask us to retrieve documents from storage there is a charge, which is normally £25 plus VAT for each matter, although we will not normally charge that fee if we retrieve documents to enable us to carry our further work for you. We will charge, however, for any work necessary to comply with instructions given by you in connection with retrieved documents. Unless otherwise agreed with you in writing, those charges will be at our hourly rates applicable at the relevant time and those charges will be applied on the same basis as set out in the agreement.

22. Financial Services

- (a) The Law Society of England and Wales is a designated professional body under Part XX of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 which means that we may carry on certain regulated activities without being regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority. This means that we may be able to provide limited financial services to you where such services arise out of, or are complementary to, the provision of legal services.
- (b) The Law Society is the designated professional body for the purposes of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, but responsibility for regulation has been delegated to the Solicitors Regulation Authority (the independent regulatory body of the Law Society), and responsibility for handling complaints has been delegated to the Legal Ombudsman. The contact details for the Solicitors Regulation Authority can be found at clause 3.1(c) and the contact details for the Legal Ombudsman can be found at clause 3.6(f).
- (c) The limited regulated activities that we carry out are issuing certain insurance policies, such as after the event legal expenses insurance, defective title insurance and other property indemnity insurance (such as breach of covenant, absence of easement, lack of planning permission, unknown rights and covenants policies).
- (d) We are not authorised by the Financial Conduct Authority. However, we are included on the register maintained by the Financial Conduct Authority so that we can carry on insurance mediation activity, which is broadly the advising on, selling and administration of insurance contracts. This part of our business, including arrangements for complaints or redress if something goes wrong, is regulated by Solicitors Regulation Authority. The register can be accessed via the Financial Conduct Authority website at www.fca.org.uk.

- (e) Any insurance policy arranged by us on your behalf, shall, in our opinion, be adequate to meet your needs, but you are hereby informed that we do not recommend any policy over and above any other and that it is your responsibility to check that you are satisfied with the excess levels, exclusions, limitations and other policy terms. We do not conduct a fair analysis of the insurance market prior to arranging insurance policies. You can request details of the insurance undertakings with which we conduct business at any time.
- (f) You hereby agree to provide us with details of any relevant existing insurance policies you may have and you agree that we shall not be liable to you for any losses you sustain as a result of your failure to provide us with such details.

23. Limitation of Liability

- (a) You agree that the limitations on our liability as set out in this agreement are reasonable having regard to the nature of your instructions and the work involved and the availability and cost of professional indemnity insurance. We are, however, happy to consider options to increase these limitations, should you so require (which may result in an increase to our fees).
- (b) We will undertake the work relating to your matter with reasonable skill and care.
- (c) We accept liability without limit for the consequences of fraud by us or any of our Directors, Consultants or Employees which is affected in their capacity as Directors, Consultants or Employees and for any other liability which we are not permitted by law or rules of professional conduct to limit or exclude. If any part of the agreement which seek to exclude, limit or restrict liability (including provisions limiting the amount we will be required to pay or limiting the time you have to bring a claim) is found by a court to be void or ineffective for any reason, the remaining provisions shall continue to be effective.
- (d) We will not be liable under this agreement or laws of negligence for any deficiencies in the work we have undertaken if and to the extent that deficiencies are due to any false, misleading or incomplete information or documentation which has been provided to us (whether by you or any third party) or due to the acts or omissions of you or any third party. However, where any failure by us to identify any such false, misleading or incomplete information (or any failure by us to inform you that we have identified such information or any failure to act on your resulting instructions) constitutes negligence then we shall, subject to the other provisions of this agreement, remain liable for such failure.
- (e) Despite anything else contained in this agreement, we are not under any obligation to act for you (or to continue to act for you) if to do so would breach any laws or professional rules. Therefore, we will not be responsible or liable to you for any loss which you or any other party may suffer as a result of our refusal to proceed with your matter where we would be in breach (or we reasonably believe that we would breach) of our legal obligations or our professional rules.
- (f) Except as stated in 3.9(c) and 3.9(l), the total aggregate liability of the Firm to you under or in connection with this agreement (including any addition or variation to it), whether for breach of contract, negligence, breach of statutory duty, or otherwise, shall not exceed £3,000,000.00 (three million pounds).
- (g) Where we are instructed jointly by more than one party, the limit on our liability applies, in total, to all of you collectively (including anyone claiming through you or on your behalf).
- (h) You agree that you will not bring any claims or proceedings in connection with this agreement against our Directors, Consultants or Employees personally, unless (and to the extent that) you are otherwise permitted to do so by law or our professional rules. Our Employees may enforce this clause even though they are not parties to this agreement (but despite having such rights, this agreement may be varied or ended without their consent).
- (i) Proceedings in respect of any claim against us must be commenced within six years after you first had (or ought reasonably to have had) both the knowledge for bringing an action for damages and the knowledge that you had the right to bring such an action and in any event no later than six years after any alleged breach of contract, negligence or other cause of action. This provision expressly overrides any statutory provision which would otherwise apply; it will not increase the time within which proceedings may be commenced and may reduce it.

- (j) If we and any other party or parties are liable to you together in respect of the same claim, then we shall only be liable to pay you the portion which is found to be fair and reasonable having regard to the level of our default. Therefore, we shall not be liable to pay you the portion which is due to the fault of such party, even if you do not recover all or any money from such other party for any reason.
- (k) If we are liable to you and any other party or parties would have been found liable to you together with us in respect of the same claim if either:
 - (i) You had also brought proceedings or made a claim against them; or
 - (ii) We had brought proceedings or made a claim against them for a contribution towards our liability, then any sum due from us to you shall be reduced by the proportion for which such other party or parties would have been found liable had those proceedings been brought or those claims been made.
- (l) Nothing in this agreement excludes or limits the liability of the Firm for:
 - (i) Death or personal injury caused by negligence;
 - (ii) Fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation; or
 - (iii) Any liability if and to the extent that it is not permissible in law for such liability to be limited or excluded.

24. Client Money

- (a) Unless otherwise agreed by us in writing, if we receive any sums to hold on your behalf (whether received directly from you or from a third party) then we may deposit such money into an account or accounts with any bank or financial institution (a “deposit provider” which expression shall include bank, financial institution or clearing house through which transfers are made) of our choosing. We confirm that we comply with any applicable laws and any applicable rules of a regulatory authority in respect of the making of any such deposits.
- (b) We shall not be liable for any loss which you or any third party may suffer in connection with an insolvency event occurring in relation to any deposit provider with whom we have deposited funds or through whom transfers are made, save if and to the extent that any such loss was caused by or contributed to by any breach by us of clause 3.10(a).
- (c) If an insolvency event occurs in relation to any deposit provider which holds money that we have deposited on your behalf, you agree that we may where applicable disclose to the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (“FSCS”) all relevant details in our possession about you and the money that we hold on your behalf with such a deposit provider. However, if you do not wish us to make any such disclosure, please contact our Data Privacy Manager, Mr Ranbir Mann, Solicitor/Director or Mrs Gurdip Kaur, Practice Manager, in writing at our registered office 368 High Street, Smethwick, West Midlands B66 3PD, by telephone (Telephone Number: 0121 555 7000) or by e-mail at info@mannandco.net. Please note that by withholding consent to our disclosure of your details to the FSCS in such circumstances, you may forfeit any right you may have to receive compensation from the FSCS where an Insolvency Event occurs in relation to a deposit provider holding money which we have deposited on your behalf. Compensation for deposits is limited to £85,000 for any individual’s total deposit with that service provider, including any personal finances. Further information regarding the FSCS can be found at www.fscs.org.uk, telephone number 020 7892 7300.

You consent to us monitoring and reading any email correspondence travelling between you and any mail recipient at the Firm.

- (b) We may end this agreement (and, therefore, cease acting for you) in relation to any matter or all matters of yours but only on reasonable written notice and for good reason. Examples of a good reason include where you have not given us sufficient instructions, where you have not provided appropriate evidence of identification or we reasonably believe that the relationship between you and us has broken down.
- (c) If your matter does not conclude, or we are prevented from continuing to act because of our legal obligations or our professional rules, we will charge you for any work we have actually done. Our charges will be based on our hourly rates set out in this agreement (and where a fixed fee has been agreed, the charges will not exceed that fixed fee).
- (d) If we cease acting for you, we shall (where relevant) inform the court or tribunal that we no longer act for you and shall apply to be removed from their records. We may charge you for doing so at our hourly rates applicable at the relevant time.
